

Three cage games head sports slate tomorrow

OU meets Creighton; Air Force finalists will clash in afternoon in Fieldhouse

Omaha's basketball team will be out to win its first game from Creighton's Bluejays in eight contests since 1946. The two teams will meet on the Creighton court tomorrow night at 8:15 p.m.

The Indians will also try to avenge a 58-47 loss in the Fieldhouse Feb. 1. The closest OU has come to the Bluejays since the war was a 51-56 loss in 1950.

The two schools broke off basketball relations last year, and did not meet again until the game on Feb. 1.

Creighton U has made 2,000 tickets available to OU students. The tickets are on sale in the business office, costing students 60 cents with their activity tickets.

Soc officials tell need for field workers

That there is a definite need for properly trained workers in the field of social welfare work in the Omaha area was the conclusion arrived at by leaders in all phases of social welfare work at a special investigative session at OU.

The meeting, called by University President Milo Bail and held last Thursday, was the result of criticism by Douglas County welfare administrators that graduate and undergraduate students of sociology in Nebraska colleges aren't getting proper training and are of little use in the welfare field.

According to Dr. T. Earl Sullenger, head of the Department of Sociology, the conclusion will give added responsibility to the program at Omaha U. But it would not necessitate major changes.

Douglas County Welfare Administrator Philip H. Vogt said that in the Omaha area alone, there is need for 500 to 700 employees, recreational workers, public health workers, visiting teachers and truant officers, and juvenile court and probation workers.

Grads not affected
Students graduating with sociology degrees this year will not be affected by the new proposed setup. Several non-credit services will be set up for others to meet the background qualifications to work toward degrees, and prepare for additional work in a wider scope of service.

Dr. Sullenger said that under the new proposed setup, students would study two years of background sociology and spend the remaining two years in field work outside the classroom.

He stated that a series of workshops for institutional workers, juvenile court workers, and child agency workers will be worked out in the future.

The top Air Force basketball teams in the world will be in action tomorrow afternoon in the OU Fieldhouse in the finals of the world-wide cage tournament.

The consolation game will be played at 1 p.m., with the world finals slated for 3 p.m. This is the first time a world-wide tournament of this type has been held.

Television station KMTV will carry the final game, sponsored by Webber Motors. Two cameras will be set up on the south side of the Fieldhouse, with a staff of eight men handling the telecast.

Both final games will be tape recorded by Sports Director Jack Payne of radio station WOW for broadcast on the Armed Forces Radio Service.

Members of the AF-ROTC unit at OU will usher for the games. Admission price will be 60 cents for students with activity cards. Other regular Omaha U prices will prevail.

Vocational seminars focus topics on mechanical engineering study

The University of Omaha launches its fourth week of Vocation seminars on Mar. 4, 5 and 6 with the discussion of Mechanical Engineering.

Tuesday at 2 p.m., Frank Fahland, chief engineer of the Union Pacific Railroad, will open the week's discussion with a talk on "Heat Power Engineering." Leland Browne, president of the Gate City Steel Corporation of Omaha, will discuss "Material Processing" at the 7:30 p.m. meeting.

The Wednesday afternoon discussion of "Air Conditioning and Refrigeration" will be directed by Robert Mason, chief engineer of the Sidles Air Conditioning Company, at 2 p.m.

An interview-panel discussion of "Mechanical Design" will close the seminars Thursday, at 2 p.m., when Carl Goth, consulting engineer, will conduct the discussion.

The week's program also includes the showing of two movies. The movies will be shown at 10 each morning and each afternoon after the discussions, as well as on Tuesday night.

Tyson issues call for panelists

J. D. Tyson of the OU speech department is now offering a good opportunity to Omaha U students who wish to do something about the problem of racial and religious intolerance in America today.

By participating in the "Panel for Americans" program, representatives of minority groups may present their views on racial and religious intolerance in constructive panel discussions before the people of Omaha.

Those interested in helping promote this "first step toward brotherhood" should contact Mr. Tyson in room 319.

Students receive five scholarships

Five OU students were awarded scholarships for the second semester. The Gilbert M. Hitchcock award in government went to Pat Palmquist. The scholarship is worth $100 for the second semester.

Three students received the World Herald Scholarships in retailing. Joseph R. Abeita, Paul Bursik and Betty Jeanne Karr are repeats for the awards, receiving them for the first semester also. Bursik is president of the Retailing Club and Miss Karr is secretary.

The Nebraska Real Estate Board Scholarship was awarded to Douglas G. Alford.

Cast shakeups made in spring production

Two cast changes have been made for "John Loves Mary," the spring play production slated for Mar. 28 and 29.

Leonore Marx replaces Barbara Haugness as Mrs. McKinley, Jack Dunlevy replaces Charles Simpson as George Beechwood.

"John Loves Mary" deals with a GI (John) who returns to his New York sweetheart (Mary) after three years overseas. He owes his life in battle to another GI friend, Fred. So he weds Fred's English girl friend simply to get her into the U.S.

The ensuing events combine to make "John Loves Mary" one of the keenest of stage comedies.

'Hot' physics exhibit causes smoke screen

The physics exhibit was red hot Tuesday morning.

Startled students learned how not to operate a magnetic switch in the vocations display. A fire blew up the exhibit when a magnetic switch failed to close a circuit and caused a burning coil. Smoke made its way through all four floors.

In another fire on campus, a back flash from the heat treating furnace in the engineering building burned an area of the wall 5 ft. by 12 ft. Bob Krenzer and Elmer Johnson, building custodians, nosed out the Fire Department in putting out the blaze.

One week of enforcement nets 73 tickets; Monday totals 46

The long arm of "Officer 2"

Violators of university traffic rules were looking through windshields decorated by "Officer 2" this week.

In three days the enforcement committee issued more than 73 tickets to drivers who chose to straddle or disregard the white lines as well as those who overstayed their welcome in the 30-minute zone. Monday's total alone was 46.

The impetus for the administration's ticket-happy activities came from the students themselves. Many complained that not enough tickets were being issued. Those who were financially singled out violators who were not ticketed.

Chain reaction

These recognized flaws in the system started a chain reaction from the Student Council all the way up to Dr. Milo Bail, university president. A traffic committee was organized to better the existing situation.

At a meeting of that committee last Friday it was decided to intensify enforcement operations.

Immediately, the shack television set, the bookroom smoke shop and the hall benches lost a customer. "Officer 2" is now spending more time in the parking lot.

Single purpose

"The purpose of the crackdown," said Jack Adwers, building and grounds superintendent, "is to clear up the parking congestion."

"The students don't seem to realize that they are actually being inconsiderate of others when they take up two spaces by line straddling, or blocking exits and entrance ways."

The traffic committee suggested the Fieldhouse parking lot as a safety valve for bottlenecks and urged students to use it.

All of the authorities who are familiar with the problem agree that the solution does not rest solely on the administration or on the students. They concluded that (1) the situation can be solved on a cooperative basis, (2) the students must conscientiously try to observe the rules for their own good, and (3) the administration will help to keep violations at a minimum through an efficient enforcement system.

Council puts okay on class officer petitions

The Student Council approved 13 petitions filed for offices of junior class president and freshman vice president for the Mar. 5 election in the west lounge.

Candidates for the junior class office are Ray Hampton, Marcia Jourdan, Marilyn Rogers, Aksel Schmidt, Jim Townsend and Sally Urban.

Seeking the freshman office are Lou Ann Focht, Alice Gilinsky, Joanne Gross, John Haurry, John Overton, Anita Reznichuk and Duane Sprick.

Activity cards are required for entrance to the polls, which will be open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

All organizations planning to present skits or floats for this year's Ma-ie Day are asked to contact either Dean Ormsby Harry or Joan Bugbee, Ma-ie Day general chairman.

Council asks immediate parking violation crackdown at meeting

Editorial--

The Gateway agrees...

Omaha's new BIG (Bigger Industrial Growth) Plan has drawn comments of approval throughout the city. Now The Gateway becomes one of these numerous backers.

The BIG Plan began last week when a group of 65 prominent Omahans volunteered to take on the job of expanding business in this area. This expansion plan would include industrialization and "pay rolls" as part of its long-range program.

The World-Herald recently quoted some of the city's more prominent businessmen in regard to the plan. The completely favorable response brought out the general attitude of Omahans. Exemplary of this was the comment of E. J. McNeely, president of Northwestern Bell, who said, "Omaha has been needing something like this for years." Accordingly, leaders in every type of industry pledged their support to the campaign.

Omaha U has a special interest in the progress of this plan. An expansion of industry and business obviously would mean a general growth of Omaha—likewise an expansion of Omaha's university.

The Gateway believes that this new interest in Omaha and its development is one of the most promising moves this city has seen in a number of years.

The results of the BIG Plan are yet to be seen—but in our opinion it deserves the close observation of everyone in Omaha—especially those attending the university. This is our chance to see what can be done—and what will be done. The BIG Plan deserves BIG results.

Sociology Club poll to determine school spirit, groups' activities

If someone thrusts a mimeographed form in front of your face sometime today, don't be surprised. It's a member of the Sociology Club making a student opinion poll.

The purpose of the poll will be to learn what can be done to improve school spirit, to learn how many students are participating in school organizations, convocations, athletics and other activities.

Student attitudes

One out of every 10 students will be asked to list the groups he belongs to, to suggest ways of improving campus organizations and to get student attitudes on present groups on campus.

Sociology Club member Roger Cross is in charge of the poll. George Wilbur is faculty advisor for the project. The poll was approved by President Bail who helped compose part of the questionnaire.

Club's project

Don West, president of the club, said that the poll is the club's project for the year. He said it was the result of an editorial in The Gateway urging more school spirit.

Students questioned will not have to reveal their names. Results will be made public in the hope that they may help in planning school activities.

Question for the week: Why doesn't the bookstore supply axes for students who think they are the big wheels?

'Hep cat' shows talents at dance

The colonel is definitely "with it." In other words, he's not a square. At least that's the opinion of students attending a recent ROTC dance.

"The Colonel" is Lt. Col. Allen H. Wood and the subject is jitterbugging. It seems that the colonel and his wife can cut a mean rug—so good that they are the envy of the college set.

Awe-stricken students pressed the colonel for an explanation and found that he and his lady have won several awards for jitterbugging proficiency in days gone by.

He said dancing left him cold in high school. The first time he danced was as a sophomore in college—then it was to win a ten dollar bet.

Although Col. Wood never had formal lessons, his wife was a modern dance major in college. Col. Wood explains that the days of being a "hep cat" are past. These jitterbugging flurries are just "slips."

Red heart of the week should go to Bryce Cook for "putting on the dog" at the band conyo.

More info on Dr. Jay MacGregor, new Dean of Students: Born in Atlantic, Ia. in 1895, Dean MacGregor is married, has two children, John and Mary, and is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, national social fraternity.

He has been listed in "Who's Who in America" since 1939.

A slip of the lip nearly sank a member of the Student Council in meeting Wednesday. Instead of sending a proposed "notice" to the Gateway, she wanted to send a "nudist."

Baxter Lectures fail to fill 'real' requirements of donor

The Baxter Lectures may not be doing the real job for which they were intended.

The late Mrs. Katherine Baxter gave the university 10,000 dollars to finance a ten year series of lectures in the "field of social sciences."

A local economist claims the late William F. Baxter was an ardent advocate of the single tax, a plan to eliminate all other taxes except the real estate tax.

Income tax worries would be banished, say single taxists, if we would let the government have the unearned increment on all land. This means that all the money the land earns solely because of its location (i.e. rent), would finance all the activities of the government.

The single tax plan attracted many business men, among them William F. Baxter.

The Baxter family, continues the economist, wanted to get support for the single tax by a series of lectures on the subject. It was recognized however, owing to the unpopularity of the single tax, that people might not attend the lectures.

Therefore the endowment was changed to include lectures on the social sciences as well as the single tax. To date, there has not been one lecture on the single tax in the Baxter series.

January graduates total 32; seniors will receive diplomas through mail

Thirty-two Omaha University students received their degrees in January, though no exercises were held. All diplomas are being mailed to the graduates.

Those receiving associate titles in Applied Arts and Sciences are Joseph Abeita, Glen Bowker, Doris Dahl, Donald Derry, Theodore Helgren, Avery Hiddleston and Alfred Smith.

In the College of Education those receiving Bachelor of Science in Education are Elva Arndt, Ronna Dienstfrey, Luella Griffen, Lucille Herring, Robert Malec, Barbara McKenny, Jayne Strohbehn, Dorothy Styskal, ward Penisten, Violet Roy, Lois Van Horn and Margaret Zurbrick.

The College of Applied Arts and Sciences awarded a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration title to Wallace Anderson, Ray Beal, Avery Hiddleston, Gene Knowles, Charles Moore and Alfred Smith. A B. S. in Engineering Administration was received by Jack Kellogg. James Taylor received a title of Bachelor of Science in Medical Technology. A Bachelor of Science title in Military Science was given to William Pierce, and Glen Bowker received a B.S. in Writing.

The College of Arts and Sciences awarded Donald Newman and Wilfred Sykora degrees of Bachelor of Arts, and Roy Jepsen received a Master of Arts degree.

Job representatives schedule interviews

Four business representatives interested in hiring graduating Seniors will visit the Placement Office in March.

Schedule for the visits is as follows:

Mar. 10. Mr. Ellis, representative from Montgomery Ward and Co.

Mar. 18. Firestone Tire and Rubber representative, Mr. Shabaz of Omaha.

Mar. 25. Recruitments for the WAVES under the direction of Lieut. Carof.

Mar. 27. Mr. Hoehn from Chicago representing the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company.

The placement Office has also put out a call for persons interested in temporary part-time typing jobs.

Debate teams journey to St Paul for national invitational tournies

OU debate teams will participate in the "West Point Qualifying Tourney" at St. Thomas College in St. Paul, Minnesota, today.

The tournament is the oldest in the Midwest and presents intense competition for all teams. On basis of scores made today, the teams will be picked to go to the invitational tourney at the West Point Academy in the spring.

In last week-end's debate tournament at Nebraska U, the Freshman debate team of Marvalene Kelsay and Sharon Erdkamp won two and lost two debates. Sophomores Duane Post and Jim Klein came out with one win and one loss.

In the discussion contests, freshman Glen Uhe won a superior in the second round. "Working against the stiff competition, Glen did well and showed exceptional promise," reported J. D. Tyson, debate coach.

Council approves petition for moving TV to lounge

The Student Council Wednesday approved a petition signed by 130 students asking that the television set be moved from the Student Center to the student lounge. The petition must be acted upon by the Committee on Student Activities for final approval.

Judd commands 'Angels' flight

The "Angels Flight," women's auxiliary of the Arnold Air Society, became an official organization on OU's campus Tuesday afternoon.

Syntha Judd heads the "Angels" as Flight Leader. Second in command is Jane Hoff, operations officer.

Other officers are Joanne Larkin, adjutant recorder; Donna Edstrand, comptroller; Juandell Williams, public relations, and Bonnie Coleman, publications officer.

The group approved the constitution and discussed plans for uniforms and the military ball.

Language club holds third essay contest

"The Contribution of Foreign Language Study to World Peace" is the title of the third annual essay contest being sponsored by the Modern Language Association of Nebraska.

April 1 is the deadline for submitting entries. Christopher Espinsa, foreign language instructor, has complete contest instructions and requests anyone interested to contact him.

Senior fees due tomorrow

Attention seniors!

Your class fees are due and payable tomorrow. Payment may be made at the ticket window in the lower hall.

In setting the $5.50 fee, Bernie Anderson, senior class president, said that the assessment covers the senior dance, banquet and class gifts.

OU names Minnesota grad to associate librarian post

A graduate of the University of Minnesota will take his place on the OU staff April 1. He is Frank Gibson, who will become the associate librarian.

Mr. Gibson was born in Des Moines, Ia. He received his BA from Drake University in '48, his BS in library science in '49 at Minnesota and will receive his MA there this summer.

From 1949 until this year he has been working in the agricultural library at Minnesota U. He spent 12 years as credit accountant at the Iowa Power and Light Co., in Des Moines.

Draft deferment applications for Apr. 24 exams due by March 10

Applications for the Apr. 24 draft deferment test must be in the mail by Mar. 10. Application blanks may be obtained by students from their local board. The April test will be the last given during the current academic year.

To be eligible for the test the applicant must be a selective service registrant who intends to request deferment as a student. He must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course—graduate or undergraduate—leading to a degree, and he must not have taken the test before.

To be deferred on a student basis, students must score 70 or better on the deferment test or have a scholastic standing among the upper half of the Freshman class, upper two thirds of the sophomore class, or upper three fourths of the junior class. Seniors must score 75 or more or be in the top half of the male members of the senior class scholastically.

Students already enrolled in graduate schools may be considered for deferment so long as they remain in good academic standing.

The two types of deferments are the I-S and the II-S. The I-S deferment allows the student who has been drafted to finish the academic year provided he has not had his induction postponed or been deferred as a student prior to June 19, 1951.

The II-S deferment is based on class standing or test score and its use rests with the local board. It may be granted by the local board each year thus allowing qualifying students to complete their education.

Training officer visits Omaha U

Lt. Col. Donald C. Pricer, Assistant Director of Training for Air Force ROTC, visited OU's AF-ROTC unit Tuesday.

While at the university, the colonel discussed the present training program with Dr. Milo Bail and the AF-ROTC staff, expressing satisfaction in the unit's progress.

Rifle team takes honors

With their eyes focused on the State Rifle Match to be held during March, the AF-ROTC marksmen journeyed to Grand Island Sunday to participate in the Midstate Rifle Meet.

Frank Sedlacek, Gilbert Davis and Darrell Cox represented Omaha University in the competition. Sedlacek made a clean sweep of the junior division as he won all three first place medals. He also placed second in the expert class. Davis gained recognition by copying first place honors in the sharpshooter class.

Cadets earn promotions

Thirteen cadet promotions were announced last week by the Air Force ROTC Department.

Those advanced to the rank of first lieutenant were Edward L. Belgrade, Henry P. Bockman, James B. Carpenter, Bill B. Clark, Jack R. Frankel, Morton L. Glass, Raymond D. Hampton, Burton A. McMillan and James B. Wright.

Douglas A. Wright was promoted to cadet sergeant. New corporals included Robert D. Amick, Eugene T. Gray and Jerry M. Norene.

Research grant permits project

Omaha University's College of Education is the recipient of a $500 research grant awarded by the Central Association of College and University Business Officers.

The grant enables research studies on trends of faculty and staff salaries of colleges and universities, enrollment trends, and other management areas. The data is being compiled from 1,000 United States colleges.

Charles Hoff, vice president for business management, and Dr. F. H. Gorman, dean of the Education College, are in charge of supervising the study.

University of Oslo offers awards; southern schools give fellowships

The University of Oslo, Norway, is offering a limited number of scholarships for American students. The scholarships are available for summer school work from June 21 to August 2.

Industrial firms in Norway are offering Ralph Bunche Awards. The awards are in honor of Dr. Ralph Bunche, recipient of the 1950 Nobel Prize. The scholarships range from $115 to $225 and are open to those interested in Norway's export industries.

The Norwegian Federation of Labor Unions is offering two scholarships, each worth $225, to students interested in the Norwegian labor movement and social problems in Norway.

Scholarships will be made on the basis of financial need and admission requirements.

The Oslo Summer School Admissions Office at St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minnesota, is in charge of applications.

Seniors in public affairs or public service careers may have an opportunity to win fellowships at three southern universities.

The fellowships are worth $1,200 and will begin upon graduation in June. Winners of the fellowships will serve an internship with a public agency this summer. The school session will begin in the fall.

The three universities participating in the training program are the Universities of Alabama, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Completion of the 12 months training period entitles the student to a certificate in public administration. Students may receive a master's degree at any of the three universities on completion of a master's thesis and after passing examinations for the degree.

Deadline for application is March 1. The Gateway has more information for those interested.

Debate fraternity pledges nine members Tuesday, prepare for Mar. 27-28 tourney

Pi Kappa Delta, national debate fraternity, pledged nine members Tuesday afternoon. New members are Donald Blauw, Sharon Erdkamp, Marvalene Kelsay, Henry Hofferber, Godfrey Horacek, Leone Marx, Tom Romberg, Ted Romberg and Glen Uhe. The ceremony was held in the Dean of Students Office at 2 p.m.

The new pledges will be activated following participation in the Pi Kappa Delta "Province of the Plains" tourney Mar. 27 and 28 and debates at Midland today and tomorrow. The teams will face Wayne State Teachers College and Nebraska intercollegiate teams at Midland.

Youth group hears Somny talk on Christian ideas

Jack Somny, assistant professor of economics and sociology at OU, spoke to a youth group at St. Paul Methodist Church Sunday evening.

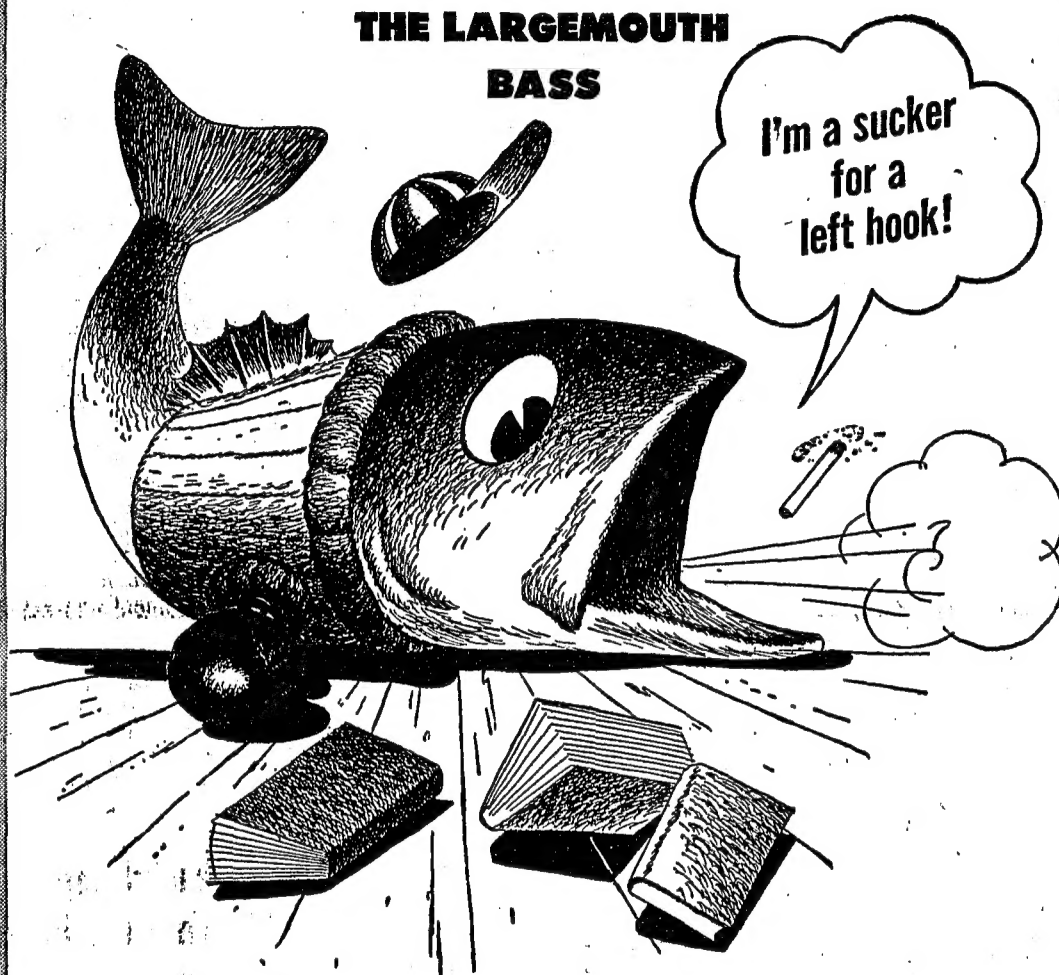

Somny explained many Christian ideas and beliefs of the college student.

Indians vs. Bluejays

Omahans invade Jay gym in Saturday tilt

The last regularly scheduled game of the 1951-52 cage season finds the Omaha Indians invading their cross town rival—Creighton.

Coach Don Pflasterer's squad will take on the favored Jays tomorrow night in the Bluejay gym. Game time is 8:15 p.m. A "B" team game will precede the varsity game at 6:15.

After dropping three straight games, the Indians popped out of their losing ways last week at the expense of Washburn and Simpson.

Wins aid OU

Besides adding two games to the win column, the Washburn and Simpson tilts boosted Omaha hopes another way.

Tom Mosiman and Larry Johnson came into their own. These two will probably see a lot of action tomorrow night, as the team can use Mosiman's sharpshooting and Johnson's rebounding.

Omaha will have to overcome the first half jitters they had when Creighton downed OU in the Indian Fieldhouse 58-47.

Centers ready

When the Omaha cagers finally got their feet under them, they outplayed the Jays completely in the second half.

For the first time in more than a week, the center situation in the Omaha camp is in good hands. Lee Nelson and Johnson are both ready to go tomorrow night.

Nelson remained at home from the Colorado trip after a session with the flu, to be in shape for tomorrow night's clash.

Jays lose

The Omaha game will be the first since their one-sided loss to Drake. The Omaha U team will probably catch the Jays rebounding after that loss.

The Indians will again be giving away the edge in height. The Jays have three towering forwards in Bill Heyden, Ray Yost and Elton Tuttle.

Barrett, Sunderlage lead stars

By Bob Peck

With the OU-Creighton basketball game coming up tomorrow night, interest of the fans is on a high pitch.

But fans should remember the Air Force tournament in our Fieldhouse tomorrow afternoon. This is a chance for cage fans in Omaha to see some really great basketball.

Sheppard strong

The Sheppard AFB team comes into the tournament with a star-studded roster. Leading the list is Ernie Barrett. Barrett is well known to midwest fans as a four year man at Kansas State, and was elected All-American in 1951.

A second All-American on the Sheppard team is Don Sunderlage, Illinois great. He holds two records in Madison Square Garden NCAA play.

Wildcat star

There is a familiar name to Nebraska fans on the roster of the Sampson AFB team. He is

Mural wrestlers to confer

Wheels have started to roll for the Intramural Wrestling Tourney. All OU men interested in participating in the March event should attend an intramural wrestling meeting Monday. It will be held in the Fieldhouse at 8 p.m.

The tournament is to be held in the second week of March with Fred Pisasale, ace mat letterman, refereeing all matches.

All men in the meet must have two weeks training before wrestling.

Hobe Jones from the University of Nebraska.

Richard Harmon, also from Sampson AFB, is another All-American from Kansas State. He set a K-State scoring record while playing with the Wildcats. He was named to the Big Seven All-conference team for two years.

Student manager

Turning to Omaha U sports, the University track team is in need of a student manager. The job consists of taking care of the track equipment and assisting track men.

Also in spring sports, the call is out for men interested in trying out for the golf team. All links aspirants should leave their names in the Athletic Director's office, or contact Bob Lindberg.

Omahans nip Simpson, Washburn; Rose leads scorers in both frays

Displaying two opposite brands of ball, Omaha University accomplished the same ends by shading Washburn 68-59, Feb. 28, and Simpson College 55-53 on Feb. 25.

The Indians put together their best game of the year to hand the Ichabods their first post-war defeat at the hands of an Omaha team, but the Red and Black reverted to a ragged style of play before escaping with a two-point win over the Redmen from Iowa.

The Indians never trailed after the first five minutes but the Redmen from Indianola were always within shouting distance.

Sparked by the performances of Tom Mosiman and Larry Johnson, Omaha pulled into an eight-point lead midway in the last frame to put the Washburn fray on ice. The Kansans led throughout most of the game with margins of 19-13 at the first quarter and 34-32 at intermission.

OU rallied to force a 47-47 tie, and then the roof fell in on the Ichabods. Two baskets by Mosiman and the rebound work of Johnson and Fred Shinrock sent the Indians into a lead never to be relinquished. Bob Rose was Omaha's main offensive threat with 19 counters.

Indians, Wesleyan mix for Kansas City berth

Coach Don Pflasterer's cagers will carry their hopes for an NAIB tournament berth into a play-off Monday and Tuesday in York, Nebr.

The play-off will include four teams: Hastings, Nebraska Wesleyan, Chadron and Omaha.

Omaha will clash with Wesleyan Monday at 9 p.m. Chadron and Hastings will mix in the opener at 7 p.m. The OU game will be the third meeting of the two schools this season.

The winner of this game will tangle with the winner of the Hastings-Chadron tilt Tuesday at 2:30 p.m.

Tuesday fray

The play-off champion will then go to Kansas City, Mo. to take part in the NAIB tournament, Mar. 10-15. The Kansas City carnival is a giant affair with small colleges from all over the United States competing.

Hopes for an Omaha U berth are bright, as they have taken decisive victories over Wesleyan already this season. However, any coach will agree that it's tough to beat a team three times in one season.

Boldebuck stars

This is especially true when referring to a team like the Plainsmen, led by 6 ft. 10½ in. Don Boldebuck. Boldebuck, giant Wesleyan pivot man, has been improving with every game and lately has been hitting around 20 points per game.

Another Wesleyan threat to Omaha hopes is Jack Woods, ace forward. Woods is probably one of the best defensive players in the state.

Full strength

The Indians should be at full strength for the two days of play-offs. With the return of Lee Nelson to the squad and the late point debut of Tom Mosiman, Omaha is a good bet to take their third win over Wesleyan.

Blackhawks' keg margin vanishes

Blackhawks were idle in the intramural bowling loop action, but they still managed to hold a slim half-game edge over Pi Kappa Alpha. However, with yesterday's results unattainable, the Pi Kappa's could move into the kegling lead.

Pi Kappa's lead

Pi Kappa has won one more game but they have also dropped two more contests than the Blackhawks, whose record stands at 29-16. Sigma Lambda Beta is one-and-a-half games out of first place with a 29-19 slate. The cause of the bowling shakeup was the postponement of the Blackhawk-ROTC series. Pi Kappa's 20-7 record is three games better than the Sig Lams for the top in the interfraternity standings.

In volleyball, ISA has taken a commanding lead with four consecutive wins. Sigma Phi Epsilon, losers to ISA Tuesday, are on the second place rung.

OUWI

Unaffiliates copped two victories during the week to remain undefeated in OUWI basketball play. They dropped strong ISA 30-27, while winning by forfeit over Sigma Kappa.

In other contests, ISA trounced Zeta Tau Alpha 34-23, and Alpha Xi Delta nabbed a forfeit from Sigma Kappa.

Air force basketball fives tangle in finals tomorrow

After yesterday's and today's eliminations, two Air Force cage giants will clash in the finals of the Air Force World-Wide Basketball Tournament on the Omaha University maples, Saturday afternoon at 3. Tonight's semifinal losers will tangle in the consolation preliminary beginning at 1.

Six teams from the United States plus teams from both the Far East and Europe began competition in the Air Force carnival yesterday on the Offutt Field floor. The survivors of Thursday's action meet tonight at Offutt to narrow the field to two quints.

Favorites in the cage tourney are the 33rd Air Division, representing the Great Plains Air Force Conference, and Sheppard (Tex.) Air Force Base, winners of the Southwest loop. Another strong contender is the Northeast Air Force champions from Sampson (N. Y.) Air Force Base.

The three other United States squads include Scott (Ill.) Air Force Base of the Great Lakes Air Force league; Memphis (Tenn.) Air Force Base, winners in the Southeast conference; and March (Calif.) Air Force Base, representing the Pacific-Northwest section.

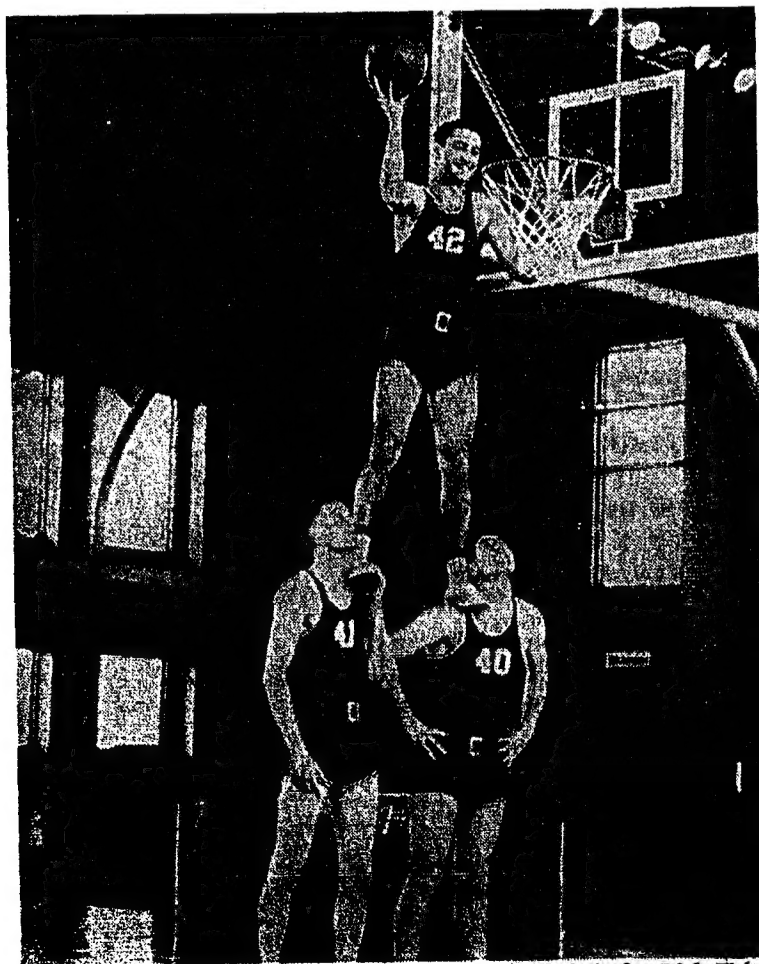

Unknowns in the basketball meet are the two overseas teams. The Far East All-Stars from Itazuke AFB and the European champs from the 1897th AACB Wing could surprise the dopesters.

Colorado College larrups OU five

After leading at the half by five points, Omaha University cagers turned on a third period freeze in Colorado last Wednesday. As a result, the Colorado Springs squad poured in 28 points to nine for the Indians, on route to a 76-53 win over the Omahans.

Fred Shinrock was the only scoring threat for the Nebraskans as he rang up 20 points for the losers.

It was the last road game of the regular season for Omaha. Colorado held the usually potent Bob Rose to two points, his lowest production of the season.

Greek Week seminars open at 3; 'Help Week' succeeds

Holdorf speaks at 6 p.m. dinner

Featured at tonight's all-Greek banquet at 6 p.m. in the auditorium will be A. J. Holdorf. The former general manager of the Rivet Lumber Company, Omaha, is now planning to make a cross-country tour speaking on "Americanism," the subject of tonight's address.

Six seminars have been scheduled for the event starting at 3:30 this afternoon in room 207 where Mrs. Winnie Bowker, national secretary of Chi Omega, will speak on "Greek Support."

At 4:30 p.m. the topic will be "Etiquette" and the speaker at this seminar will be Mrs. Vogel-sang, first grand vice president of Alpha Gamma Delta. She will speak in room 101. Also at this time in room 100, Mrs. Mary Padou Young will address a seminar for Greek advisors.

Seminars will resume at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow in room 207 with a talk on "Leadership" by Dave Bernstein, keynote speaker this afternoon.

Saturday's second topic will be "Rushing." National president of Theta Chi Stuart Kelley will address the group in room 100. Kelley will also preside over the final Greek Week seminar at 11:30 a.m. in room 101 on "Pledge Training."

Greek Week for 1952 will come to an official close at an all-Greek informal dance tomorrow evening at the Carter Lake Club. Eddy Haddad will provide music from 9-12 for Greeks and their dates.

Overall Greek-Week chairmen are Syntha Judd and Dick Beem. Other chairmen not acknowledged in last week's Gateway are Hospitality—Merlyn Fratt, chairman; Jackie Zerbe, Howard Olson; General Program—Ed Marsh, Nancy Hileman; Greek Help Week—Ed Marsh, chairman; Marilyn Everett, Jerry Meyers.

ODK, Waakiya plan all-campus songfest

A joint meeting of representatives from Waakiya and ODK concerning the all-school sing, May 20, will be held Monday noon. The groups will send out letters next week to fraternities, sororities and the ISA stating the registration deadline for the event.

Rules for the all-school sing will be announced later next week.

OUWI sponsors school-wide square dance for March 15

A square dance sponsored by the Omaha University Women's Intramural's is on tap for all students on Saturday evening, Mar. 15 from 8 to 11 p.m.

The dance, to be held in the auditorium, will be the first OUWI sponsored square dance ever held on campus. One activity ticket will admit a couple.

"You don't have to be an expert square dancer to attend," says Elaine Jones, dance chairman. "Just dress in jeans or casual clothes," she advises, "and come prepared for an evening of fun." Entertainment is being planned for intermission.

Fraternities net 45 pledges

The following 45 men have been pledged to four fraternities during IFC's regular spring rushing.

Theta Chi: Fran Bantin, Terry Bowman, Cecil Cooney, Roy Edwards, Ron Gibson, Arnold Jensen, Sam Marasco, Phil Miller, Ken Rumery, Dale Swanson, Jim Sweetman, Jerry Vogt and Charles Wroblewski.

Pi Kappa Alpha: Eugene Anderson, Don Buckman, Jerry Clark, Hugh Clatterbuck, Dale Cockerill, Jack Frost, Jack Irwin, Joe Kennedy, Lydell Kiplin and Melvin Rousek.

Sigma Lambda Beta: Richard Kimball, Dewaine Sporer, James Van Camp, James Vickery and Oliver Sparks.

Pi Kappa Alpha installs Thetas

Forty-seven active members of Theta Phi Delta were admitted into Pi Kappa Alpha national fraternity Friday night.

The group was installed as the Delta Chi chapter on Saturday afternoon in the faculty clubroom. Ten rushees were also initiated into Pi Kappa Alpha pledgeship.

Powell McHaney, national president of Pi Kappa Alpha, and Milo Bail, president of OU, addressed the new group at a banquet Saturday evening at the Fontenelle. Don Blocker received a trophy for "Most Outstanding Pledge" of the first semester.

Haddad will play at yearly Chi O dance

The annual Chi O all-Greek dance, "Shamrock Shuffle," will be at Peony Park, Mar. 14. Eddy Haddad and his band will play.

Music groups slate tea and convocation

Pledges of Kappa Lambda Mu, honorary music sorority, met Wednesday for the presentation of pledge ribbons. Formal initiation will be held Sunday at the home of Ruth Sieg.

The sorority is planning a convocation with Phi Mu Alpha, honorary music fraternity. Ruth Sieg and Nancy Hileman are in charge.

The groups are also scheduling their annual Freshman Music Tea for Omaha high school seniors interested in music. Joan Pierce and Shirley Hawkins head this committee.

Thanks told on all work scenes

Favorable weather and group cooperation helped make OU's first Greek "Help-Week" a unanimous success.

Mrs. Okura, YWCA official, said the Sigma Kappa's and Theta Chi's who worked there Monday did a wonderful job. "We are more than thankful for their help," she said, "in painting a new cloakroom and other moveable coat racks, doors and cards."

According to George Reid, executive secretary of the North Branch YMCA, the Phi Ep's, Sig Lamb's and Zeta's did a very nice job there, too. "The constant stream of students signified a wonderful spirit of cooperation," Reid added. There students tore down and burned an old shed, painted two rooms, cleaned up the basement and raked a yard.

Working in relays, members of Chi O, Sig Epi, Pi Kappa Alpha and Alpha Xi attacked Elmwood Park on Wednesday and Thursday. Among other things they washed 800 pavilion windows, washed tables, painted benches, stacked wood and cleaned the springs from rocks and weeds.

ISA schedules dance for Feb. 7 to reveal candidate

The first ISA all-school dance to be held off the campus is set for next Friday night at the Blackstone Hotel.

"Starlight Stroll" will feature the presentation of OU's candidate for "National ISA Sweetheart." Members of ISA will choose her from candidates Alice Gilinsky, Jane Hoff, Mary Richardson, June Williams and Mary Winter.

Admission to the dance is $1.20 per couple plus one activity card. Chuck Canuso and his combo will play for the affair.

With the ISA chorus singing the sweetheart song composed by Berkeley Forsythe and Rolly Klopfeish, the sweetheart will be crowned during the intermission ceremonies at "Starlight Stroll."

Tickets for the dance are available from any ISA member. They will not be sold at the door. ISA members can get their tickets from Nancy Will.

The chorus will practice tonight at 6:30 p.m. at the home

Alpha Xi awaits formal banquet

Gary Peniston and his orchestra will play for the Alpha Xi's and their dates at the traditional "Rose Formal" dinner dance Mar. 29. Appointed social chairman for the formal affair is Vivian Cotton.

Joyce Erdkamp and Joanne Gross will head the sorority's Ma-ie Day skit committee and Georgeanna Walton and Betty Hamilton are in charge of floats.

The date for Alpha Xi's Founder's Day banquet has been slated for Apr. 17 at the Omaha Country Club. At the joint function of alumni and actives from Omaha and Lincoln, an award will be given to the active having the greatest scholarship improvement.

Spurned maids can claim kiss, silk gown by custom

"It is statut and ordaint that during the rein of her maist blissit megesty, for ilk yeare knowne as lepe yeare, ilk maiden ladye of both high and lowe estate shall hae libertie to bespeke ye man she likes, albeit he refuses to talk hir to

Phi Ep's name all-Greek dance

"Rhythm Rumpus" is the name of the Phi Ep all-Greek dance to be held Apr. 14 at Peony Park. The fraternity has arranged for Cliff Dudley and his orchestra to play at the affair and has appointed Jack Noodell as dance chairman.

Hank Greenstone, national traveling secretary of the group, met with Phi Ep's at a dinner Sunday evening Feb. 9 at the Leavenworth Grill.

Changes in the officer set-up of the fraternity include Jerry Belzer as recording secretary and Hugo Kahn as social chairman. Co-ordinator for Ma-ie Day is Bob Rubenstein with Melvin Weiss as float committee chairman.

Sigma Kappas vote on leading pledges

At a Sigma Kappa meeting Monday evening, activies voted on the outstanding pledge and the pledge with the highest scholarship. They will be announced at the Sigma Kappa initiation Mar. 14.

Traditional white dresses were worn for the pledging of Joyce Blackney on Feb. 19 at the home of Donna Hayes.

to be his lawful wyfe, he shall be mulcted in ye sum ane pundis or less, as his estait may be, except and awis gif he can make it appear that his is betrothit ane ither woman he shall then be free."

A page from Chaucer? No, the above olde English is just the first known recording of the mysterious custom of the female pursuing the male during leap year, enacted in 1228 in Scotland. A few years later a similar law was passed in France, and in the 15th century the custom was legalized in Genoa and Florence.

Leap year began during Julius Caesar's calendar reform in 46 B. C. when the solar year was settled at 365 days, 6 hours. At the end of four years, these extra hours added up to a day added unto the fourth year. But no satisfactory explanation has ever been dug up regarding the leap year custom.

One Irish fable involves St. Patrick in the perplexing matter. While leaving the shores of the Lough Neah River after a session of gathering frogs, he was met by St. Bridget. The good dame informed him that great trouble had arisen among the womenfolk who always had to wait for a gentleman's proverse this custom at a certain designated time.

Being a softie at heart, Pat offered Bridget and her anxious friends one year in seven in which they might chase the menfolk. But Bridget, who did not have the advantage of cosmetics, realized what a difference seven years can make in a woman's life. She threw her arms around the good man and subtly asked him to change this to one year in four.

Pat, however, had vowed never to marry. In order to compensate the fair maiden he gave her a kiss and a silk gown.
